

The shoulder level is now where it needs to be. Notice it tilts up slightly--that's OK, because tailored jackets have shoulder pads. This extra will accommodate the shoulder pad.

This photo shows that there is plenty of room in the pattern circumference for Marcia--this jacket has lots of wearing ease.

